

TAINEJOSO

TAINE JOSO is a Brisbane based ensemble formed by singer-songwriter Taine Josephson, drummer Daniel Trochei, guitarist Alex Wilton and bassist Chris Allen in 2018. The group serves to express a vast array of musical influences in their compositions including Jeff Buckley, Led Zeppelin, The Allman Brothers, Nusrat Fateh Ali Khan, TOOL, Soundgarden and D'angelo.

TAINE JOSO have recently followed up their 2020 “pandemic” releases “Love Me Like Your Lover” and “RIOTS” with the bands third single “Dire”.

HAPPY MAG says that the band’s release “Riots”SM Sonically, combines the angst of Soundgarden with the sonic ambition of Led Zeppelin. They manage to create a sound that is bloodcurdling, ethereal, and utterly hypnotising all in one. From its glistening start to its finish, “Riots” is a track that isn’t afraid to grip society by the jugular.

The bands new release “Dire” serves as critique of the aggrandizement of war. It comments upon the great tragedy such conflicts inevitably create: how the promises of glory and entering into legend often bequeath youth a terrible fate.

“Dire” was recorded and mixed by acclaimed audio engineer Jeff Lovejoy (Powderfinger, Regurgitator, Tex Perkins).

After an exciting “Dire” single release at the Zoo on the 15th of April the band is continuing to play live around South East Queensland and working on their next release planned for early July.
